WHAT is ForestSAT? The biennial meeting of the Association for Forest Spatial Analysis Technologies (ForestSAT) has become the leading international gathering of researchers, practitioners and stakeholders interested in the development and use of established and emerging technologies for the observation and analysis of forests. ForestSAT2022, co-hosted by Freie Universität Berlin and Technical University of Berlin, will be held at the Freie Universität Berlin, in the Southwestern part of Germany's capital.

WHO attends ForestSAT? With delegates from research organizations, universities, government agencies, and the private sector, the ForestSAT community has grown steadily in both number and geographical distribution over the past several years. For ForestSAT 2022 we received more than 350 abstracts and we expect a correspondingly high number of participants. ForestSAT 2022 marks the return of this conference after four years due to the COVID pandemic. Previous dates & venues include: Maryland, USA (2018), Santiago, Chile (2016), Riva del Garda, Italy (2014), Corvallis, Oregon, USA (2012), Lugo, Spain (2010), Montpellier, France (2007), Borås, Sweden (2005), and Edinburgh, Scotland (2002).

WHY is ForestSAT more relevant than ever? New remote sensing missions, airborne and in-situ platforms, and the explosion in data fusion and cloud computing technologies are revolutionizing how we monitor and model forests around the world. These technologies are also helping us confront new management challenges within forested ecosystems, including human and natural stressors. ForestSAT 2022 brings its participants to the forefront of this revolution, continuing the legacy of previous ForestSAT conferences that first began in 2002.

HOW does your company or organization become a part of ForestSAT 2022? Don't miss your chance to be a part of this exciting community of ForestSAT.
